New SPRI Website features industry specific Career Center

Waltham, MA, September 2005—SPRI announces the release of SPRI Works, a web-based career center designed to help the single ply roofing community employer and employee connect. SPRI Works, found at www.spri.org, offers a resume bank and listings of career opportunities available in roofing, manufacturing and other related fields. Resume posting and job search capabilities are free of charge.

SPRI Works offers a number of advanced features. Job seekers anonymously list their experience and qualifications in a protected environment and can be notified by email of new job opportunities that match their search criteria. By giving both active and passive job seekers the ability to anonymously post their resumes, SPRI Works allows job seekers to stay connected to the employment market while maintaining full control of their confidential information.

“There are so many qualified, hard working people in the roofing industry that need to move their career forward or re-locate, “SPRI Works” is a great resource for these people to send out the word that they are available without rocking the boat with their current employer. As an employer I will use “SPRI Works”, to look for prospective employees before any other source,” said Shawn Stanley of SPRI Member Company, IB Roof Systems.

To visit SPRI Works, go to www.spri.org and click on the SPRI Works Career Center.

SPRI represents sheet membrane and related component suppliers in the commercial roofing industry. Since 1981, SPRI has been a resource for building owners, architects, engineers, specifiers, contractors and maintenance personnel, providing objective information about commercial roofing components and systems. SPRI Headquarters can be reached at info@spri.org or by calling (781) 647-7026.
