SPRI Recognizes Member Contributions

Waltham, MA, February 2017 — SPRI recognized two of its members for outstanding contributions to the industry at the association's 35th Annual Conference and Business Meeting, held January 13-15 at the Opal Sands Resort in Clearwater Beach, FL. SPRI represents sheet membrane and component suppliers to the commercial roofing industry.

Chris Mader, Codes/Approvals Support Engineer at OMG Roofing Products, was recognized for his leadership of SPRI's FX-1 Task Force. Mader led the task force which ended in the approval of the updated ANSI standard; "Standard Field Test Procedure for Determining the Withdrawal Resistance of Roofing Fasteners". This standard provides procedures in the field to test the pullout resistance of all types of roofing fasteners.

Mader was also recognized as a significant contributor to SPRI's technical efforts and for all of his assistance with SPRI technical projects.

Recognized as well was Lynsey Hull, Quality Manager at Trinity ERD, for his successful efforts in development of the plans to upgrade the SPRI website which is now underway and will be completed during the upcoming year. Hull's expertise in the field of website development has been crucial to the planning process and implementation of SPRI's website re-design.
